PATRIOTS

It's hard to live in New England and not be a Patriots fan these days. Even though I am a Dolphins fan there are several things I like about the Patriots. Tom Brady is the quarterback for the Patriots. He has very good passing skills and hardly ever makes a mistake. I bet if Tom Brady was the quarterback for the Dolphins this year, they would probably be in the Super Bowl. The Patriots have had excellent coaching this season. Good coaching is just as important as the talent of the players. The Patriots have had the best record in the NFL this season. They have only lost two games! The Patriots are a good team and I wish them good luck in the Super Bowl.
